Foreword

In compiling this book, the staff had in mind the 300th anniversary of secondary education. We who enjoy modern educational facilities pause to recognize the efforts which have made them possible.

It was also our intention to record things which you, in years to come, will cherish as memories of your happiest days.

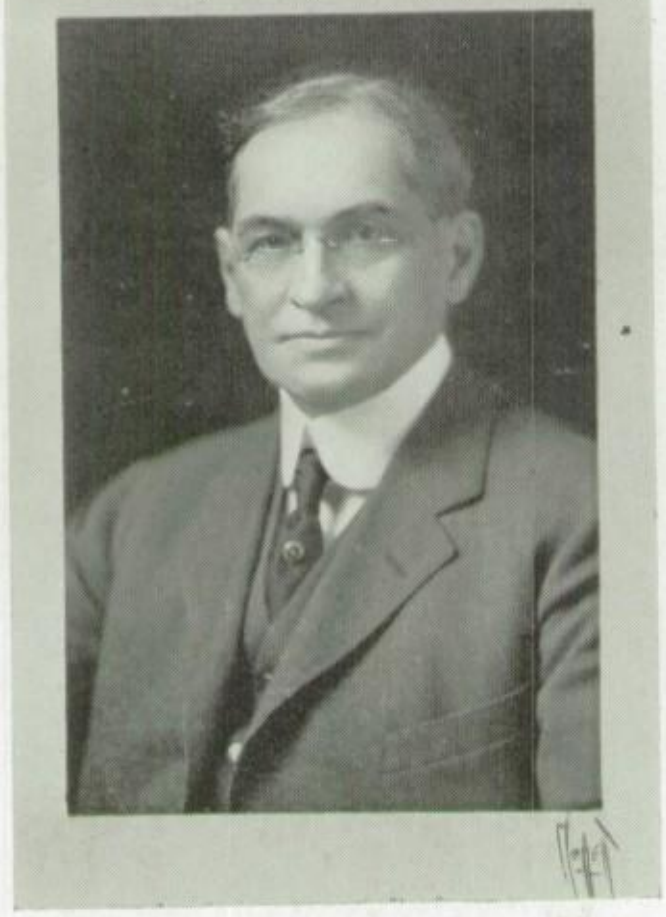
300 YEARS OF PROGRESS
1935



Mr. Allan F. Rees

To a member of the first graduating class (1875) who through three generations has kept faith with the girls and boys of Houghton High School, and who through his nobility of character and integrity of purpose has set for us high ideals, we respectfully dedicate our year book.

Greetings

LOY NORRIX
Superintendent

Dear Graduates:

The honor which is yours at graduation from Houghton High School is a tribute to the vision of generations of men and women of America. No higher tribute could be paid to those citizens who three hundred years ago in Boston organized the first secondary school than to view each year hundreds of thousands of high school graduates going from the secondary schools into colleges and into other life situations. May this typically American institution—The High School—continue to be of service to American boys and girls.

Mr. Norrix.

Class of 1935:

You commemorate the Sixtieth Anniversary of Commencement Day. Sixty years ago the first graduates received their diplomas, the merited insignia of work well done. Their record is of the past. Your record is of today and of the days to come. May each and every one win new laurels in your walks of life, to add honor and dignity to your school. The power is within you, Class of 1935.

Anita M. Siewert.

ANITA SIEWERT
Dean of Girls

IRVING S. EDWARDS
Principal

To the Class of 1935:

As you leave Houghton High School my best wishes for your success and happiness go with you.

Your class motto is well taken. Experience demonstrates the truth of it. May you remember it when the way seems hard.

I. S. Edwards.

ALWAYS

Dedicated to Houghton High.

It is from you, Hoton High,
That we part with a sigh.
You have been our true friend,
You've been faithful to the end,
And you'll always be the same, old Hoton High!

When we pass into the world,
We'll know your banner is unfurled
To be our guiding star,
To lead us from afar,
And you'll always be the same, old Hoton High!

When we are old and gray,
We'll look back upon this day
As a day of golden schemes,
And a night of golden dreams,
And you'll always be the same, old Hoton High!

Class Night

Early in year the President of the United States issued a proclamation setting aside the year 1935 as the three-hundredth anniversary of the beginning of secondary education in our country. He requested that secondary schools and others make suitable observation throughout the year.

As part of the Tercentenary observation in Houghton High School this year, the Senior Class voted to forego the conventional type of class night exercises and present a play suggested by the National Education Association.

The title of the play was "Modern Education on Trial." Under the capable direction of Miss Lees, the play proved to be very successful.

The scene of the play was in a court room. The so called fads and frills of education, impersonated by members of the class, were put on trial to determine their justifiability. Several of the witnesses presented exhibits of various phases of school work as evidence.

The class night program was as follows:

...Honor Award...

James Tobin

The committee appointed to name the 1935 candidate for the honor award has chosen James Tobin as the most outstanding senior, one who has by his conduct and activities best exemplified the ideals of Houghton High School.

Scholarship

James is an earnest student and an honest one. He works up to the level of his abilities.

Extra-Curricular Activities

James has been a tireless worker in extra-curricular activities. He has held responsible class offices; he has been chairman for innumerable committees; he has been prominent in Hi-Y and Home Room activities; he has served on the Amygdaloid staff as business manager; he has taken part in school plays; he has been a loyal teammate in football, basketball, and track.

Leadership

His qualities for leadership are outstanding. He is an excellent business manager; he is skilled in the art of persuasive speaking; he knows how to take jokes as well as give them; he formulates original plans for social functions; he uses tact and zest in bringing those plans to fruition; and he has a smile that invites confidence.

Dependability

He is dependable. Teachers and students have grown accustomed to saying, "Let's get 'Jimmy' Tobin to do this. We know it'll be done then." And whether the responsibility is a trival or a major one, "Jimmy" Tobin is there to see that it's done.

Modesty

"Jimmy" is unusually modest. As his smile speaks for qualities of leadership, his blushes speak for his undeniable modesty.

Altruism

"Jimmy" gives his time and service generously without thought of reward. He seems to have made it a rule that his personal plans must take second place, that school, club, team and community come first.

Loyalty

His loyalty to Houghton High School is as unchallenged as his loyalty to his closest friends.

Worthiness

Because he is outstandingly honest, energetic, dependable, modest, altruistic, and loyal, James Tobin has been chosen for the 1935 honor award.

The Junior Class

The officers for this year were: President, Jeanne Myers; Vice-President, Harold Beyer; Secretary, Helen Latimer. Mrs. Chamberlin and Mr. MacDonald were the class sponsors.

Many of the boys have earned letters. Our star tennis player, Ruth Cattell, has upheld the school well in the tournaments.

On May 2, a lyceum number was sponsored to raise funds for a Prom. Mr. Edwards made it possible to make some more money on an excellent concert given by musicians from the Northern State Teachers College.

The Prom was held on June 7, with everyone making merry to the tune of the "Merry Makers."

The Sophomore Class

The sophomore class is proud to acknowledge its part in the activities of Houghton High School.

The class has supplied important members of the Latin, Glee, Dramatic and Art Clubs. Many sophomores play in the band and orchestra.

Several of the girls were cheer leaders, and a few were delegates to the Older Girls' Conference.

The boys have been active athletes on the football, basketball, and track teams.

Many of the boys and girls alike have been named on the honor roll.

Since the new Home Room system came into effect, the sophomore class has been divided into three parts. The sponsors for these groups were Miss Leary, Miss Lyon, and Mr. Burton, all of whom have shown enthusiasm and patience in making the sophomore class of 1935 a happy one.

FOOTBALL

Third Row—Peterson, Karam, Kangas, Ryynanen, Johnson, Bennett, Goodreau.

Second Row—Sullivan, Trathen, Gauthier, McLean, Saarinen, Nelson, Smith.

First Row—Butkovich, Atkin, Nettell, Shiroda, Bennett, Klein, McCarthy.

The Houghton football team passed through one of its most disastrous seasons the past year.

The call for candidates brought out about fifty aspirants to athletic fame. With the five lettermen of the previous year as a nucleus, and several promising candidates, Coach Bugni endeavored to build a team.

After two weeks of practice, we met Lake Linden on the Hubbell Field and lost 19-6. The game remained a tie until the last quarter, when Lake Linden scored twice.

The next week we traveled to L'Anse. Houghton came within scoring distance several times, but L'Anse scored in the third quarter on a long pass.

Our next visitor and victor was Hancock. They overcame us by 15-0.

The following week we beat L'Anse on our field, 13-6. The game was a thriller and was featured by L'Anse's aerial attack. Ryynanen and Gauthier scored for Houghton.

Next, we met Hancock at Condon Field and were beaten 41-0. Still smarting from that defeat, we went to Lake Linden and got trounced, 19-0.

After a week in which no practice could be held due to freezing weather, Houghton journeyed to Calumet. We were defeated by the tremendous score of 68-0.

For the first time in several years, Houghton failed to place a man on the all-star team. Tom Bennett was placed on the all-star second team, and Ed Ryynanen and Tom Butkovich were given honorable mention.

During the season, the team lost the services of Nettell, Brey, Tobin, and Rogers. Their absence was keenly felt when injuries forced them to withdraw.

Much praise should be given to Tom Sullivan who executed his job as manager with unequalled efficiency.

The lettermen are:

Tom Butkovich
Bill Gauthier
Ed Ryynanen
Tom Bennett
Clyde Nettell
Jim Tobin
Art Karam
Bob Atkin
Ed Provost
Fred Trathen
George Gekas
Jce McLean
Bob Lauren
Matt Saarinen
Godfrey Johnson
Stephen Brunett
Tom Sullivan

TENNIS

In the school tournament last fall, Ruth Cattell won in singles and Rosanna Markham and Ruth Swift in doubles. Hancock and Lake Linden were our rivals. Ruth Cattell won all her matches. The doubles team was defeated only once.

The boys have been equally victorious. Norman Francis won all his games. Our famous little doubles team, composed of Jack Smith and Prunsey Ruhl, lost only one game.

TRACK

We didn't hear much about our track team this year, but we will next year. The squad will be more experienced, since only two of the members are graduating.

Those who took part in the events are:

Art, Karam (captain)
Dave Aldrich
Jim Tobin
Bob Lauren
Bill Gauthier
Fred Trathen
Bud Klenner

BASKETBALL

Third Row—Thirey, Kangas, Bennett, Lauren, Fountaine, Provost, Shiroda, Aldrich, Klenner.

First Row—Sullivan, Gullstrand, Lingelbach Ryynanen, Tobin, Nettell, Smith.

The basketball team appeared to have the breaks against it during the entire season. After a strong start against Dollar Bay, the team cracked up against Lake Linden. However, with Ryynanen, Tobin, Gullstrand, Nettell, and Lingelbach hitting their stride the team managed to take Hancock, L'Anse, Painesdale (two games), and Baraga into camp. The Calumet boys were too much for the Orange.

After losing the second game for the season, the team was severely handicapped by the loss of Nettell. Tebo's absence was irreparable for the remainder of the season.

L'Anse, Baraga, and Dollar Bay fell before the onslaught of Coach Bugni's proteges, but Lake Linden, Hancock, and Lake Linden again at the M. C. M. tournament took the Hotonites down.

Although they met defeat five times during the season, the Orange and Black displayed a brand of besketball seldom offered the Houghton fans in recent years, and proved conclusively that they could contend with any quintet in the conference.

Graduating Seniors are Ryynanen, Tobin, Gullstrand, Nettell, Francis, Goodreau, and Horner.

Although the team suffers severely from graduation, Shiroda, Nelson, Ruhl, Johnson, and several remaining members of last year's sophomore squad show promise of developing into the fast, shifty aggregation which will represent the Orange in the coming season.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Third Row—Lampshire, Bennett, Latimer, Byer, Michels, Aldrich, Gregory.

Second Row—Hodge, Myers, Markham, Runge, Torkala, Hornick.

First Row—Barth, Kehl, Mrs. Chamberlin, Coon, Caspersen, Tobin.

Though only in its third year, this club has attained considerable prominence in our school.

This year "The Maskers" staged four plays, two of them public performances. The first one was the three-act mystery "Hobgoblin House." As a result of this play the club was able to contribute over eighty dollars to the needy Athletic treasury. The second play open to the public was the one-act tragedy "Submerged." James Paduan and Edwin Ryynanen, though not members, performed in a manner worthy of the Maskers.

The one-act fantasy, "Jazz and Minuet," and the one-act comedy, "The Tangled Web," were presented at regular meetings. Each member invited two guests to them.

The club owes its success this year to the leadership and guidance of the following:

President ..... Ruth Coon.

Vice-President ..... Alice Runge.

Secretary ..... Thomas Bennett.

Business Manager ..... James Tobin.

Sponsor ..... Mrs. Chamberlin.

COMMERCE CLUB

Fourth Row—Draws, Pakkala, Dunn, Mattila, Saarinen, Hietala, St. Amour.

Third Row—Barth, Hartman, Pirttima, Robertson, Mutter.

Second Row—Miss Engstrom, Makinen, Holly, Mantta, McLean, Roberts.

First Row—Franks, Holly, Lundy, Bruneau, Reynolds, Clifford.

OFFICERS

President ..... Delores Holly.

Secretary-Treasurer ..... Elsie Clifford.

Program Chairman ..... Annie McLean.

Advisor ..... Miss Engstrom.

Membership in the Commerce Club is open to all Senior Commerce students.

Meetings were held twice a month. The programs included speakers, interesting trips to business places, musical selections, "brain teasers," and other means of diversion.

The club sponsored a matinee dance to raise funds for awards to outstanding commercial students.

On Memorial Day, the members enjoyed a picnic at the Canal.

THE FORENSIC CLUB

Third Row—Moykkanen, Runge, Kehl, Rumph, Miss Johnson, Myers, Koski, Wimmer.

Second Row—Laurell, Watters, Andrew, Van Orden, Sutinen, Kujansuu, Feira.

First Row—Paduan, Hodge, LaBine, Rheaume, Jenkins, Aldrich.

At the first meeting, what was formerly the Debating Club was made a Forensic Club, thus including all forms of public speaking.

The following officers were elected:

President .....Margaret Mary LaBine.

Vice-President .....Ruth Swift.

Secretary-Treasurer .....Jeanne Myers.

Mary Wieber, the program chairman, arranged programs which consisted of debates, extempore speeches, and readings.

Those who took part in inter-school debates were: David Aldrich, Mary Feira, Sidney Lang, David Andrew, Jeanne Myers, Bill Seaman, and Kathryn Sutinen. They defeated Hancock in one of three debates and Lake Linden in one of two.

The club entertained the district contest entries. In this contest William Hodge won first place in orations and James Paduan second place in extempore speaking.

Much credit is due to Miss Johnson, worthy sponsor of the club.

THE PATRICIANS

Fourth Row—Nelson, Dreis, Lindgren, Frenette, Eskelinen, Barth, Kennedy.

Third Row—Lauren, Tretheway, Trezona, MacDonald.

Second Row—Bourgeois, Niemi, Runge, Miss Lees, Schwarzenberg, Roberts, Laux.

First Row—Kivela, Forsman, Banks, Wimmer, Shea, Curnow.

The Latin Club was organized under the direction of Miss Lees for the purpose of gaining a better knowledge of the life and customs of the Romans.

At the first meeting this year the following officers were elected:

Pontifex Maximus .....Florence Shea.

Consul .....Elvia Forsman.

Praetor .....Ruth Swift.

Censor .....Margaret Runge.

Quaestor .....Mary Banks.

Aedile .....Catherine Laux.

In the beginning of the year, the Patricians initiated a group of about forty first-year students who are known as the Plebians.

THE PLEBIANS

Fourth Row—Klenner, Jennings, McCarthy, Conley, Lang, Stern, La-Bissoniere.

Third Row—Miss Lees, Klein, Knickerbocker, Wescoat, Nachazel, Reynolds, Reynolds, Gamble.

Second Row—Lindela, Hall, Link, Huhta, Karppi, Teliin, Gamble, Sutinen.

First Row—Pakkala, Pascoe, Lund, Virtanen, Lightfoot, Bishop, Gregory, Niemi.

The name of the Latin Club, "S. P. Q. R.," means "Senatus Populus que Romanus." First-year students are called "Plebians," meaning "common people."

The officers for the year were:

Consul .....Jean LaBissoniere.

Praetor .....Gladys Virtanen.

Censor .....Carlos Klenner.

Quaestor .....Bernice Gregory.

Aedile .....Charles Hall.

Meetings were held twice a month. The programs consisted of talks on Roman life and occasional games.

LES JOYEUX FRANCAIS

Fourth Row—Foley, Moore, Kehl, Garbolino, Koski, Miss Johnson, Rumph, Myers, Hornick.

Third Row—Larson, Larson, Karam, Gullstrand, Puttonen, Ralph, Lampshire, Michels.

SENIOR GIRLS' CLUB

The Senior Girls' Club had as its officers the past year:

President .....Jean Conley.

Vice-President .....Mary Fiera.

Secretary .....Margaret Starkweather.

Treasurer .....Elvia Forsman.

At each meeting, the chairman of the various committees made a report. A summary of these reports indicates our varied activities for the year.

Program Committee: Esther Starkweather, chairman; Eureka Kujansuu, Emily Foote, Mary Holly, Katherine Laux, Katherine Niemi, Margaret Rumph. This committee delegated the programs to the various committees. Several musical programs, dramatics—two plays, talks by Miss Siewert and Mr. Edwards indicate the variety offered in the programs.

This year we sent several representatives to a conference of Older Girls held in Hancock the latter part of March. One of our meetings was devoted to a program consisting of reports on the conference and a military tap-dancing stunt performed by four of the girls who attended the conference.

Social Service: Margaret LaBine, chairman; Alice Baxter, Ruth Cattell, Ruth Swift, Evelyn Karr. They have sponsored several worthwhile projects, among which was the collection of Victor records. This drive was so successful that the total number of records brought in, 3500, enabled the High School to obtain a radio. The girls enjoyed a talk on social work by Mrs. W. G. Rice.

Entertainment Committee: Ruth Coon, chairman; Helen Hartman, Katherine Sutinen, Charlotte Hornick, Marion Merrifield. This group sponsored the Mother-Daughter tea for the mothers of the graduating girls. Through the activity of the chairman we contributed to the success of the Older Girls' conference.

Friendship Committee: Esther Brown, chairman; Asta Johnson, Barbara Brunell, Helen Parks, Lillian Etapa, Margaret Simmons. To acquaint new girls with our school, to visit girls who were out of school for extended illness or in the hospital, to extend sympathy for bereavement in the family, were the objectives which this group attained.

Ways and Means Committee: Kathleen Watters, chairman; Elsie

Clifford, Alma Valentin, Alice Runge, Lorraine Lindgren, Clara Morrey. These girls cooperated with the Entertainment committee.

Pep Committee: Emma Curnow, chairman; Betty Lampshire, Grace Moon, Hattie Stone, Ruth Swift, Betty Frimodig. This committee held a number of noon time pep meetings, trained several recruits, lead the cheering at the games, and assisted in selling tickets for them.

Lost and Found Committee: Doris Mayworm. Through this committee many articles were returned to their owners.

Dress Committee: Aileen Puttinen, chairman; Rosanna Markham, Frances Kehl, Eleanor Keranen, Mary Banks. This new committee had charge of our last meeting of the year. They put on an attractive style show with the girls in the sewing department as models.

Rest Room Committee: Marjorie Courchaine, chairman; Anne Kennedy, Edith Fillbrook, Alice Jenkins, Mary Hobba, Helen Latimer, Katherine Erickson, Evelyn Beaucage. These girls, each for one period, took charge of the rest room. Judging from the records, they have been useful in many ways.

Our stage manager was Jean Brunette.

Through the activities and cooperation of these groups of girls, the Senior Girls' Club has contributed its part to the success of the past school year.

JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS' CLUB

The club was organized in October with the following officers:

President .....Elsie Honkala.

Vice-President .....Serene Simons.

Secretary-Treasurer .....June Francis.

Programs consisted of meetings in the gymnasium and the auditorium. Much credit is due to June Jennings and Eleanor Johnson as chairman of the program committees. Elaine Knickerbocker has been faithful in carrying on her duties as chairman of the Friendship committee.

Both the Social Service and Booster committees worked with the Senior High Girls' Club so that a large number of girls have had an opportunity to be helpful.

Yes, you have guessed aright. A hearty hand-clasp and a sincere thank you, Mr. Loy Norrix, our superintendent, for the masterly manner in which you have met every engagement and discharged every duty.

As a talented educator and executive we know and honor you, but the "hidden talents" of diplomacy, tact, and statesmanship brought to light in your negotiations for the financial maintenance of the schools of Portage Township were a delightful revelation. Our honors are heaped abundantly. "The nation that has the schools, has the future." How splendidly, how successfully you have wrought for today and tomorrow!

THE SENIOR PLAY

Shirt Sleeves

"It is three generations from shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves," but we hope that it won't be that long before we can see these actors at their best again.

Under the able direction of Miss Lees, the Seniors put on a play that was enjoyed by everyone attending. "Shirtsleeves" is the human interest story of a wealthy man, Franklin Rand, embodied by Bob Horner, who looses all his money in a bank failure. His wife and elder daughter, Diana, go to Mrs. Rand's sister when the auction is held. Only through the cheerful influence of his twin children, Esther and Ted, is Mr. Rand able to keep his head above water.

The heart interest is furnished by Donald Rand and Marjorie Scanlon; Kitty the maid, and Elmer, the milkman. In the last act, the black-hearted villian is thwarted by Marjorie. The final curtain descends on the once more happy family as Franklin has a job, Diana can go to school, and the villian is safe behind the bars. The cast is as follows:

Franklin Rand.....Robert Horner.
Julia Rand .....Kathleen Watters.
Esther Rand .....Alice Baxter.
Theodore Rand .....David Andrew.
Diana Rand .....Lorraine Bourgeois.
Norman Aldrich .....David Aldrich.
Kitty .....Margaret Mary LaBine.
Elmer .....Sulho Brown.
Clarissa Scott .....Rosanna Markham.
Midge Waring .....Barbara Brunell.
Donald Rand .....Norman Francis.
Marjie Scanlon .....Ruth Coon.
Richard Crandall .....Arthur Tauriainen.
Auctioneer .....Thomas Bennett.
Clerk .....Matt Saarinen.
Alpha .....Jean Conley.
"Omega" .....Aileen Puttonen.
Two Baggagemen .....Robert Franks.
Raymond Thiery.
Townspeople— Elsie Clifford, Eureka Kujansuu,
Lorraine Lindgren, Edwin Ryynanen.

EXPERIENCES OF A BUSINESS MANAGER

In going about my work of soliciting ads for a year book, I have found that business men are of three types—those who "hym" and "haw" and don't take an ad, those who "hym" and "haw" and take a cheap ad, and those who don't let one even finish, or I rather should say, start to talk before they agree that it is a great proposition. The latter type, as can be readily seen, are the most popular with us. In honor of his type I would like to tell of an experience with one typical of this type.

We walked into the building and over to the office and asked the girl for directions as to whom to see about advertising. She directed us to a gentleman who was sitting on the front bumper of a car talking to a prospective buyer. He looked up and saw us coming. Something in the look of our eyes must have told him what we were after. His first words—coming through a grin which extended from ear to ear—were "How much is it going to cost me?"

My partner, being up to the occasion, replied, "Four dollars. Ya' want the same ad as last year?" "Yes, I guess that will do," replied the business man. Hearing that I walked over to the cashier, procured four dollars, and, with expressions of due appreciation, we departed.

(Probably you have wondered why we traveled in pairs. Have you never heard the old saying, "Misery loves company?")

SO BEAUTIFUL A DAY

It was so peaceful in study hall with only the buzz of the saws in the shop and the strains of some spring song as only grade children can sing it.

I began to think of how nice it would be to be fishing. I took my pencil and tied a piece of string to it and began to fish in the ink well. I sat there and cast in my line imagining myself on the banks of the Sturgeon. I wiggled my line a bit but nary a nibble.

Suddenly something took hold of my line and ran downstream. I tried reeling him in but my pole bent like a hoop. He jumped and I could see that he was about a four-pound brook trout. I regained five yards on that jump.

For half an hour I worked and gradually had him so I could reach him with my net. I reached out to dip him in but he gave one last frantic jump that almost pulled my arm off. I woke up with a start and there was the teacher at the end of my line.

AN ANSWER TO A QUESTOR

I am just a farmer's daughter,
With a mild Mae Western air,
I have brown eyes gay with laughter,
And light brown curly hair.

You may dream of black haired beauties,
But I think that I would do,
For you see I'm not so "snooty,"
And I make good Irish stew.

If you ever take to farming,
And you make some extra dimes.
And if you think I would find you charming,
Then come up n'see me sometime.

—Rosanna Markham.

WE WONDER——

If Alice Gamble still thinks snakes eggs are long and narrow.
How Mr. MacDonald broke his glasses.
If Barbara B. makes a habit of throwing snowballs at teachers.
Why Miss Lyon dashed in and out of Yauch's Pool Room.
Who started this ghastly epidemic of punning.
If "Num" F. still thinks Dickens was a "precious" child.
Why Mr. Gaynor is suddenly wearing a Fedora instead of a cap.
Who nearly fainted at "The Bride of Frankenstein."
When Kay W. and Mr. Thomas are to be married.
Who's the hard guy "Rosie" ruined her hand on.
If it was John Bunyun or Paul Bunyan who wrote "Pilgrim's Progress."
Who tied the tin cans on the cars at the Prom.

1875 - COMMENCEMENT DAY - 1935

The First Commencement Day—The First Class to receive Graduate Honors from the Houghton High School—was in the year 1875.

Commencement Day was a scholastic event in those early days, three score years ago. It is such an event today. The years dull not its lustre nor detract from its significance. The diploma is as a Roll of Honor entitling the owner to enter college or university for further preparation in the art of making a living and in the vastly greater art of making a life.

Were it possible to compile a history of the individual graduates of the other years what a book of absorbing interest it would be! What an inspiring record of achievement and progress, of excelling ability and strength of character, of loyal citizenship and patriotic endeavor! Many there are and many you know who have reached these higher altitudes of life and living.

The graduates of today have the same race to run, the same goal to attain, the same crown to win. May all success be theirs.

The Houghton National Bank during its business activity of three score years and ten attests many splendid accomplishments of the graduates of Houghton High School.
